

DISCOVERSD.COM

Best breakfast-for-dinner spots in San Diego

Indulge in breakfast grub, all day long

By Liz Bowen JAN. 6, 2016

Share

/hauteliving.com

1

West Coast Tavern

A savory-and-sweet breakfast is undeniably delicious. West Coast Tavern serves up choices of either pork belly and waffles or chicken and waffles all day, both sure to satisfy that meat-meets-sweet craving you've been having.

2895 University Ave., Hillcrest. westcoasttavern.com

Share

2

Fig Tree Café

If you're heading out to dinner, but are in dire need of pancakes or bacon, hit up Fig Tree Café. It'll give you the best of both worlds, offering some breakfast-inspired menu options like the Man Candy, with thick-sliced bacon, brown sugar and paprika.

Various locations. figtreeeatery.com

Share

/P.P./yelp.com

3

Swami's North Park

Looking for satisfying breakfast options like fresh juice, veggie omelets and acai bowls? Swami's is the spot for you, health-lover. We like Swami's North Park for an all-day breakfast that is completely guilt-free.

2920 University Ave., North Park. swamiscafesd.com

Share

4

The Great Maple

Nothing makes you feel more like a kid breaking the rules than enjoying a breakfast dessert for dinner. Get your dessert fix with the maple bacon donuts, generously portioned, stacked high and served warm all day. The donuts are topped with fresh bacon and powdered sugar.

1451 Washington St., Hillcrest. thegreatmaple.com

Share

5

Brian's 24

If there's anywhere in San Diego that you can count on to get breakfast for dinner, even at 3 a.m., it's Brian's 24. This 24-hour diner has pretty much everything you could ever require from a yummy breakfast, offering menu items like benedicts, parfaits, waffles and traditional biscuits and gravy.

828 Sixth Ave., downtown. brians24.com

Share

6

Uptown Tavern

This eatery offers multiple waffles, all stuffed with bacon or cheese, and all desirable as a meal at any time of the day. We recommend going for the Breakfast for Dinner because well, the title kind of speaks for itself. This waffle is full of bacon and topped-off with a fried egg and acai-blueberry compote.

1236 University Ave., Hillcrest. uptowntavern.com

Share

Jared Gase

7

The Crack Shack

What came first: the chicken or the egg? At Crack Shack, it's no competition between these two foods, which are served up however you like as a salad or sandwich. Vegetarian options are also available at this hot spot.

2266 Kettner Boulevard, Little Italy. crack-shack.com